WALL STREET, SATURDAY, Feb. 27-6 P. M. The stock market to-day aid not reflect improvement. Prices were erratic, irregular and strongly suggestive of personal manipulation. Dealings were confined chiefly to brokers, who, watching opportunities on the floor of the Stock Exchange, could make their fractional profits. speculation by their inability to determine between real and artificial values and by their doubt as to the purpose of leading capitalists. The tone of the market was not strongly suggestive of permanently higher prices, and there were few who lost their judgment because of the advance of one or two stocks. The downward tendency has been sharply defined, and until commerce comes to the aid of speculation there seems to be no good reason why men should deceive themselves by investment in impoversshed securities. The speculative dealings to-day were comparatively large, amounting to about 108,000 shares, which may be divided as follows among the principal stocks:-New York Central and Hudson, 160; Erie, 11.300; Lake Shore, 23,000; Northwestern, 46,200; do. preferred, 5,300; Rock Island, 1,500; Pacific Mail, 49,200; St. Paul, 13,300; do. preserred, 1,800; Ohio, 5,900; Western Union, 18,400; Wabash, 5,900; Union Pacific, 14,100; C.,

THE WRECKED STEAMER VICKSBURG. STATEMENT OF THE PURSER.

From the purser of the wrecked steamer Vicksburg additional particulars have been gathered regarding the disaster. Hatteras was sighted on Monday, and immediately after the vessel encountered a dense fog, which enveloped her until Thursday. A heavy gale then sprung up from west-northwest, the barometer failing to 29.20. Soundings were taken every quarter of an hour. At hall-past ten on Thursday night on the outer bar, off Fire Island, and an immense wave carried her over the intervening channel to the inner bar, where she lay hopelessly stranded, with every wave beating her to pieces. The upper works of the vessel were soon carried away, but Friday morning the purser volunteered to venture ashore in a boat and seek assistance. A crew was soon formed and the boat lowered. When

THE STEAMER THE QUEEN.

CAPTAIN BRAGG'S CONDUCT INDORSED BY THE PASSENGERS.

While the passengers of the steamer The Queen were at Squan village on Thursday last, awaiting the train bound for New York, they held a meeting in the depot, with a view of deciding on some plan the manner in which Captain Bragg acted on the occasion of the vessel going ashore, as well as during the entire voyage. Finally they decided to draw up a statement covering the matter and present it to this faitful officer. The paper was signed by all the cabin passengers, and is as follows:

signed by all the cabin passengers, and is as follows:—

Squan Village, Feb. 25, 1875.

The undersigned, passengers by the National Steamship Company's steamers by the National Steamship Company's steamers by the National Steamship Company's steamers as the Company's steamers and the Company's steamers are contained for the neast two days, take this anethod of expressing their entire approbation of the conduct of Capiain Bragg during the trying time of the past forty-cight hours. Nearly the whole of this period ne has been at his post on the bridge and making frequent soundings. We feel that he has done all that man could do to save the slipp. During the entire voyage we have found him extraordinarily points and attentive to our necessities and computed in the same and the public, as a matter of strict justice, will fully exonerate into from all blame for the sad ending of the passage across.

in addition to the above the steerage passengers also drew up a similar paper and presented it to Captain Bragg.

WALL STREET NOTES.

A REPORTED FAILURE AND ITS EXPLANATION-THE GRANGER COMPROMISE-BAILWAY RECON-STRUCTION-CURAN REPLECTIONS.

During yesterday atternoon rumors were prevanational bank of this city was in trouble. The Ninth National Bank was the one associated with these rumors, and in the same connection it was stated that the trouble originated with the failure Messrs. Vyse & Co., which occurred a short time ago. About a year since Mr. Vyse resigned his position as President of the bank, and since that time it is stated his relations have been none other than these of an ordinary depositor and customer. A HERALD reporter called on Mr. Mills, the President of the bank, yesterday, and by him was informed that the rumor had no foundation whatever in fact. Mr. Mills admitted that the bank held a certain amount of Mr. Vyse's paper, but stated that this was moderate and fully secured. Even if this was not the case, and the amount should eventually prove a total loss, the credit of the bank, which has a a total loss, the erecit of the bank, which has a capital of $1,500.000, would not be affected. It has to be borne in mind that a Mr. Vyse, of Vyse & Co., is Vice President of the bank mentioned.
